He gravitated to the beauty of Grand Lake and many fond family memories were created there. He and his wife, Ginger, resided in the very cabin built by Glenn Ullom Sr., continuing a long-held dream of many sunsets on the lake. Butch, who was preceded in death by his parents, Glenn and Dorothy Ullom; his maternal grandparents Billy and Fanny Ullom; and his paternal grandparents Bill and Charlotte Moore. “ Marci, I didn't know your dad but one can tell a lot about a man by his kids. He must have been one helluva man. Big hugs to your family from ours.

“ Butch was my classmate and friend to me and my husband Virgil. They were both dealt the big “C” and battled together. The three of us spent several long conversations on the phone sharing their different treatments and encouraging each other to keep fighting to get the win. Well, they did! They won the key to Heaven and hopefully they will continue to look over us. I will miss Butch and our calls, but I hope he will Rest In Peace and is now standing along side Virgil. God Bless all of the Family.
