“ There are no words to express the sadness that I feel. Even though I couldn't be there, my heart and thoughts are and have been with you all. Uncle John was such a special and loving man, and nothing can take away the wonderful memories we shared with him and your family. He is now in no more pain and suffering and reunited with all our loved ones. It's not easy to say goodbye, but we will all be together again some day. I love each and everyone of you so dearly Carolyn
